

MAJOR DILLARD

This high bred young stallion will stand the fall season at my sale barn in Bryan. I have lately brought him back from Houston where he has been in training and the following is an extract from a letter, from his trainer written Oct. 1st.

"I regret your decision to take Maj. Dillard away; he was as promising a colt as we had this season. He had just begun to step nice, and stepped a mile in 2:41 and finished at a 2:24 clip. I am positive in another 30 days he would have stepped it in 2:30 or better. He was the favorite with all and it is my opinion the racing public will hear from him by next fall." There is no finer bred stallion in this section than

READY FOR BUSINESS.

Mr. W. O. Hearne has completed his new laundry and opened this morning. He has installed an up-to-date set of fixtures and appliances in the new building he erected on the site of the old laundry, and has employed a set of expert workmen. Mr. J. R. McCall, well known in Bryan, will arrive tomorrow to take charge of the mechanical department. Mr. McCall's ability along this line has been demonstrated to the people of Bryan. Mr. Hearne has been unable to give the best service for some time on account of having to send work to laundries at other places, but he has everything complete now and says the service in the future will be prompt and efficient. He has the best wishes of The Eagle for success.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All human beings, regardless of sex, are respectfully requested to meet in the courthouse this evening, October 5, at 8 o'clock. This layman's mission service is the first of its kind ever held in these glorious United States, and will be known as the U. S. A. in honor of the holy name. I have taken the great Apostle to the Gentiles, Saint Paul, for my model. This will be the first subject—the conversion of Saint Paul. Ladies are respectfully invited.

Ex-Saloonkeeper, Lay Missionary.

JUST FROM NEW YORK.

One of the New York critics commenting on the opening performance of Sidney Drew in his glorious success, "Billy," says: "Was a toothsome comedy that literally hit into humor and cornered the laugh market." Sidney Drew and "Billy" are on their way here, so there is a good time coming soon. They open the new Colonial theatre here Friday night, October 7. You had better drop around to Brandon & Lawrence's and see about those tickets now. 260

A GOOD SHOW.

The show at the park this week is a good one. Miss Lola Dale in spectacular dancing gives a beautiful exhibition in her serpentine and costume dances. Kent and Wilson are two clever vaudeville artists, presenting a comedy skit that is good. The moving pictures are plain and the subjects good. It is a good chance to get an evening's pleasure for 10 cents. 260

MORE HAIR FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

E. J. Jenkins Has the Secret and Gives it to the Readers of The Eagle.

To properly treat the hair so that it will grow abundantly and luxuriantly, one should first banish dandruff and stop falling hair and itching scalp. This can easily be done with Parisian Sage, sold by E. J. Jenkins with an absolute guarantee to cure dandruff, to stop all falling hair and itching scalp, or money back.

It cures dandruff by killing the germs, and it kills them so promptly that the most skeptical give it praise. But Parisian Sage is more than a cure for dandruff—it will make hair grow on any head where the hair bulb is not altogether dead.

And we want every reader of The Eagle to know that Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world. It is so pleasant to use, and its effect is so invigorating that it causes the hair to become lustrous, fascinating and full of life.

Large bottles only 50c at E. J. Jenkins' and druggists everywhere. Girl with Auburn hair on every package.

WEEKLY COTTON LETTER.

New York, Oct. 2.—Heavy buying of cotton by spinners and spot dealers this week was the feature of the market and prices reached a level approximately one cent a pound over the low figures of the early part of the month.

The Southern operators so prominent in the bull campaign last season were also large buyers of the new crop during the week and are predicting very much higher prices than those now prevailing.

A number of private reports from responsible sources indicated further serious deterioration in the growing crop during the month and the trade generally is inclined to reduce previous estimates of the probable yield. Few expect a crop of 12,000,000 bales and many believe it will be nearer 11,000,000 bales, unless conditions for the remainder of the season are unusually favorable.

The government's last condition report for the year, due next Monday, is expected to confirm the private accounts of deterioration, but there is a considerable divergence of opinion as to the probable percentage of decrease.

The larger acreage this year compared with 1900 is more or less offset by the fact that, except in the Southwest, the crop is two or three weeks late, and aside from the damage already sustained, the plant is more likely to suffer from frost than it was last year.

Conservative estimates based on reliable data now in hand place the crop at about 11,500,000 bales, provided there is no killing frost before November 1. A difference of 500,000 bales either way might easily result from frost damage earlier or later than that date.

The threatened outlook of operations in a number of large English cotton mills is not considered a serious factor in the situation, as it is believed the differences between the spinners and their employees will be adjusted before the season is far advanced in order to avert the possibility of the business going to their English competitors or to continental and American spinners.

Owing to the depletion of surplus stock of cotton and cotton goods in the world's markets, due to the small crop last year, the shortage this season would have inevitably resulted in higher prices but for backward trade conditions.

Whenever improvement is noted in the demand for goods it will be quickly reflected in better prices for cotton.

Meantime, the market will be very sensitive to frost scares from now on. We expect the tendency to continue upward and favor buying on all reasonable reactions.

Latham, Alexander & Co. [Since the date of this letter there has been a notable advance in prices. The letter is published because it gives a correct view of the present conditions.—Editor]

KANSAS CITY LIVE STOCK. Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 2.—Run of quarantines here last week was 260 carloads, containing 10,000 cattle, fairly liberal for the season. There was a break in the market, most serious on big weight cattle in the native division, and least effective on the lighter weight steers, including quarantines, which lost 15¢@25¢ for the week. Cows declined 10¢@15¢, and calves had a bad break, closing 25¢@75¢ lower. There is a big run of cattle here today, mostly from Kansas pastures, as owners are hurrying to market to get ahead of the frost. Many owners in Kansas will put cattle into feed lots this week, or on part feed, and receipts should not be as heavy after a few days, with some reaction in the market. Quarantine receipts today are 107 carloads; market weak to 10¢ lower. Quality has been lacking in quarantine offerings for a week or two, especially in steers, a good number of light common steers selling under $4.00 now, down to $3.60; bulk of steers today at $3.90@4.60, tops around $5.00; cows $3.25@3.75, odd head up to $4.25; calves $5.00@8.00.

Hogs continued to slump last week; loss about 30¢ for the week, making a loss of 70¢ in the market in the last three weeks. Receipts increased a little last week, but still remained about 50 per cent short of same week last year. Run is 4000 today; market 10¢@15¢ lower; heavy hogs at $8.25@8.50, medium weights $8.35@8.75, light hogs $8.60@8.82 1/2. Packers are determined to put the price down, regardless of slim supplies, but they meet an obstacle in the strong demand from shipper buyers, who fill orders from Eastern killers, where there is a big demand for light weight hogs.

Another big run of sheep came in last week, and the market sagged a little more, 15¢@25¢, applying both to killing and feeding kinds. Run is 15,000 here today; market strong; killing lambs up to $5.75, feeding lambs worth $5.75@6.00, killing wethers $4.25, ewes $3.55, feeding wethers $3.75@4.10. Sheep receipts here last month were largest on record for any month, and more went to the country from here than ever before in a single month.
